

E-Learning: Modern media for training use

Learning anywhere and everywhere!

Your Needs = Our Challenge

Are your employees scattered, even across national borders or even globally? Is there a lack of time for necessary trainings? E-learning, that is the use of new media for networking, time and location-independent learning, could be the solution here.

Our Experience = Your Advantage

For almost 10 years, APPLICATIO is busy with the so-called e-learning as a training method among others. In addition to the development of complete strategies for companies and entire countries APPLICATIO has set up extensive experience in the training of e-learning experts and the development of didactic training concepts, online courses and their implementation. In this e-learning is always a metal cathode, among others, and never degenerates into an end in itself!

Our Service = Your Key to Success

APPLICATIO covers the full range of services around the topic of learning with new media.

At the strategic level APPLICATIO supports governments, universities, NGOs, training providers in the development of e-learning strategies and implementation plans. At the implementation level APPLICATIO develops didactic approaches, curricula and online courses and implements them successfully within the framework of blended learning scenarios and web-based trainings. There are also training opportunities for e-learning experts such as authors, tutors, educationalists and managers.

In almost all training programmes APPLICATIO uses its own e-Academy in support of the participants.

An example:

For the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) APPLICATIO has designed an online Academy "Skills Suite for Management & Leadership", and developed and built more than 30 e-learning courses.

Another one...

In Mongolia, APPLICATIO supported the NGO "Mongolia eKnowledge" in the development of strategies and courses and today both jointly are developing quality criteria for accreditation and certification of courses and organisations throughout the country.

This offer/service represents an example. All services of APPLICATIO are generally tailor-made based on the individual needs of the clients.
